K-12 students in foster care face circumstances that are far more challenging than those faced by many of their peers. Such circumstances often make foster students’ learning difficult and their futures uncertain. An important first step to changing foster youth outcomes is learning about their challenges.

Where they are
More than 43,000 K-12 students in California schools were in foster care in 2009-10, and most California school districts serve foster youth (Figures 1 and 2).1,2

| Fig. 1 | 64% (27,178) in grades K-8 |
| Fig. 2 | 82% of districts serve foster youth |

| Fig. 3 | Number of schools attended during first year of foster care |
|        | 36% (15,530) in grades 9-12 |

Instability is a major challenge
Almost half of students changed schools mid-year in their first year of foster care (Figure 3). 34% of 17- and 18-year-olds had attended 5 or more schools.4 4-6 months of learning is lost each time they change schools, and foster youth have double the absence rate of their peers, nationally.3,4

Achievement suffers
Foster youth graduation rates and the percent scoring proficient or better on state tests in 2010 were well below those of their peers (Figure 4).1,2

- graduated on time: 84% for all students, 58% for foster youth
- English language arts proficiency (grades 2-7, 11): 53% for all students, 30% for foster youth
- Mathematics proficiency (grades 2-7): 61% for all students, 37% for foster youth
Challenges persist after high school

A 2011 study of former foster youth\(^1\) found that by age 26, less than 2% earned a college degree (Figure 5), 33% had incomes at or below the poverty level or had no health insurance, and 54% experienced clinical-level mental health challenges.

K-12 boards of education can help foster youth by aligning values, policies, goals and budgets to support the ability of staff to effectively serve foster youth through three core strategies emphasized by foster youth advocates.

Safety

Staff assist foster youth with:

1. Immediate identification and enrollment
2. Increased emotional support to cope with trauma

Stability

Staff assist foster youth with:

1. Minimizing school transitions
2. Accommodations for unavoidable transitions—Partial credit and timely transfer of records (AB 490)
3. Working productively with ERHs—those authorized to make educational decisions for foster youth

Support

Staff assist foster youth with:

1. A network of relationships: personal, professional and organizational collaborations that coordinate support
2. Encouragement and guidance for college planning and meeting A-G graduation requirements
3. Accommodations for graduation requirements (AB 167/216), if needed
